The New York Stock Exchange in the Crisis of 1914 is the title under which H. G. S. Noble, President of the Exchange, presents in a paper-bound volume of ninety pages a record of the happenings of last fall in which the Stock Exchange played so important a part. The book comprises three chapters, the first dealing with The Closing of the Exchange, the second with The Period of Suspension, and the third with The Reopening of the Exchange. It is noted that while the Exchange is in the second century of its existence, only on two occasions has it been forced to close its doors in that long period. The first occasion was the great panic of 1873-the after-effect of the Civil War-when trading was suspended for ten days. The second came with the outbreak of the World War, in the close of July 1914. Inasmuch as the events of 1914 are the most momentous that have so far constituted the life and history of the Exchange, and some record of and commentary upon the facts incident thereto may be of value to the present members and of interest and profit to its future members, the assembling of the data in a separate volume, apart from the minutes of committees and documents, seems desirable, hence the record prepared by Mr. Noble. In reciting the steps leading to the closing of the Exchange last year, Mr. Noble says: The conditions on the Stock Exchange when the storm burst were in some respects very helpful. Speculation for several years had been at a low ebb so that values were not inflated nor commitments extended. During the week proceeding...
